Gentlemen:

I am interested in securing information concerning the National Security Council which I believe has now been incorporated into the Central Intelligence System.

The following specific questions would probably satisfy my curiosity:

1) Is the Central Intelligence System an independent organization or is it a branch of the Department of National Defence?

2) If I were interested in working for such an organization what qualifications would be necessary and how would application be made?

Your kind attention to this letter would be greatly appreciated.

~~Yours etc~~

Very truly yours,

(Signed)
